

This architectural floor plan depicts a large hall, likely a theater or a lecture hall, oriented horizontally. On the left side, there is a long, narrow stage area. Adjacent to the stage is a balcony or mezzanine level, indicated by a dashed line and labeled with the number '100'. The main floor of the hall is a large, open rectangular space. At the bottom of the plan, there is a rectangular area, possibly a service area or a stage extension, containing a small rectangular structure. The plan is annotated with various numbers and letters, including '100', '101', '102', '103', '104', '105', '106', '107', '108', '109', '110', '111', '112', '113', '114', '115', '116', '117', '118', This architectural drawing shows a rectangular room. On the left wall, there is a circular feature with a radial pattern, possibly a window or a decorative element. On the right wall, there is a doorway or an opening. The drawing includes various lines and annotations, such as '1/2' and '1/4', which likely indicate measurements or proportions. The overall style is that of a technical architectural sketch.
